

TESTIMONIALS (COMMERCIAL)

PRE-SCHOOL

The Mountlake Terrace Co-op Pre-school loves their Quadro playcenter. It is all that was advertised on your website and more! It is strong, sturdy, portable and safe for the kids. The 2 year olds all the way to the 5 year olds can play on it all at once and stay busy. The children have turned it into a "Fort", a "Pirate Ship" and a "Skyscraper". It has given them hours of enjoyment. The teacher, Anna Drake, juts loves it and considers it one of the best investments the pre-school has made and it is built to last.

PRE-SCHOOL

We inherited our Quadro system from a family which had used the parts to build a bed and desk system for their son. As we grew up, my brothers and I used all the donated parts to created many different play structures including climbers, forts and play furniture.

Today I teach pre-schoolers and with the Quadro components I recently designed and built a 7' high house frame with a roof tall enough for me to stand inside. My kids and I have decorated the structure according to the latest project - it's been a grocery store, a space station, a theater and a Hallowe'en haunted house.

I'm already planning to re-design into a playscape structure in the near future.

The Quadro set we have is over 16 years old and still going strong. Thank you Quadro

PEDIATRIC DENTAL

Your medium and large Quadro playcenters have been a great hit in the waiting room of our 4 pediatric dental facilities across town. We replaced all your competitors units with Quadro. NO COMPARISON!! We have parents all day long bringing in their children for dental care and the playcenters are an excellent way for the children to keep occupied while they wait for their appointment. The parents like the fact they can see their kids and have no worries about them getting hurt because the system is so safe. Can't believe how rugged the playcenter is - we expect we will have it for many years. The Quadro playcenter is prominently featured in our TV advertising.

PRE-SCHOOL - DISABILITIES

I teach 2-5 year olds with disabilities.

The original Junior Quadro set I ordered shipped directly from Germany over 9 years ago. I now have the Junior, Universal, Slide and Textile sets for my preschool class. It's difficult where to begin listing the benefits of Quadro - from the fine and gross motors skills training to the infinite variety of structures which can be created. We build something new every 2-4 weeks to follow the themes we teach-a school bus, apple barn, castle, zoo, sleigh, circus ring, etc. The children love it!

After so many years of positive experiences, it's hard to consider my classroom without Quadro.

I'm glad to hear it's easily available here in the USA.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING

We use Quadro for our adult leadership/team-building training seminars.

One activity uses both the full size Quadro and the small model. We break the group into several teams and tell them they have to build an exact replica (color counts!) of their "scale model." We keep the Quadro mini-models in a box in another room and team members can only look at the model for 1 minute at a time. They rush back to the building area trying to remember what color goes where. Each team also has a parts person and they are responsible for running to the "parts store" and requisitioning the right parts (and you can only get one type of part per trip, e.g. pipes, joints, plates, etc.). Anyway, there is a deadline and it gets pretty wild. It also becomes competitive as there are only the precise number of parts required to make all the models and so if one team gets a long red pipe instead of a short one, well things go south quickly!

What the teams don't know is that all of the models (and thus the full scale creations) fit together to make one big thing; a car, or a house -- whatever we've made. So at the end there is a mad scramble to try and assemble the final product. There are lots of great learning to be had from this activity and it's also a lot of fun. There's nothing like seeing adults running up and down a hallway with multi-colored pipes!

In the other activity, we have teams create vehicles that they race against each other. I've done them with a NASCAR theme, with a "Back to the Future" theme for scientists and a "UPS" Theme for Logistics groups. The basic activity is that your team has to build a vehicle that meets specific design requirements. Other than those requirements, groups can be as creative as they want and we've seen some pretty wild contraptions! The grand finale is the "race" and we actually set up a course and have the vehicles race each other.

DAY CARE

We are very pleased with the Quadro playcenter system we recently purchased from you . The children enjoy a variety of creative play activities on, under and around the center. We are especially pleased with the ease of access, the bright colors and even more importantly the safety features which reduces the danger of accidental mishaps. The center is perfectly stable, yet the portability feature allows us to move it when we require additional space. Just what we needed for our indoor play area.

Thank you for your help and cooperation

ENTERTAINMENT

I'm in the entertainment business, and often need to build sets and props that are lightweight, strong, adaptable and reusable. I love how Quadro does all that. I've made one cart that is so tough, that I can take the abuse of the airplane baggage handlers when I fly it. There are so many possibilities with the cleverly designed pieces that you can build almost anything you can think of. A few times, the pieces weren't quite the right length, but if you have a saw and a drill , you can even cut them to fulfill exacting specifications. The stuff lasts and lasts, too. It's a pleasure to work with something who's materials and design are so well engineered. Have had Quadro for about 15 years.
